

Educators Serving Educators

A DIVISION OF EXCELSIOR COLLEGE

Educators Serving Educators

Educators Serving Educators (ESE) is an innovative not-for-profit corporation that works with accredited institutions of higher education to develop and deliver online programs and courses.

We are quality driven, faculty-focused, and share your institutional values.

ESE offers online course development to partner institutions, providing exceptional support and requiring no initial cash outlay.

The ESE Difference

ESE is a division of Excelsior College, one of America's first virtual universities. Since 1971, Excelsior has designed hundreds of online programs and courses and has enabled over 130,000 adult learners to earn college degrees at a distance.

What We Do

ESE's goal is to help your institution succeed and to build the online system that works best for you. Your faculty controls the curriculum and content of all programs that are developed. ESE works to "teach you to fish" so your institution can gain the knowledge and experience necessary to maintain your own successful online learning unit.
