Leveraging New Technologies in Advancement

Lighthouse I, The Seaport Hotel

Stephen Laster, Eduventures Senior Fellow and Chief Information Officer, Harvard Business School

At the 2010 Annual Member Meeting we discussed how a member institution implemented one of the first-ever text-to-give programs with disappointing results. How has the use of new technologies by advancement offices evolved since then? Stephen Laster will share with Development Learning Collaborative members his perspectives on the pioneering techniques that his institution and others are using to create customized donor engagement experiences and effectively leverage social media. Get answers to your questions about the use of popular tools like i-Pads and smart phones to enhance fundraising efforts, and more.

2:30 – 3:00 P.M.

Implementing Donor-Driven Fundraising Strategies: A Closer Look at the 2012 Alumni Pulse Survey

Cara A. Quackenbush, Principal Analyst, Development Learning Collaborative

Cailin Ahern, Client Services Advisor, Development Learning Collaborative

Eduventures' inaugural Alumni Pulse Survey, a key 2012 Collaborative initiative, is designed to enable members to make tactical, data-driven adjustments to their strategies for annual giving, stewardship, communications and marketing, alumni programming, and board and volunteer engagement, among other areas of advancement. Offering a unique opportunity to hear directly from your alumni, this study will provide you with analysis of their attitudes, affinities and giving preferences compared to a national sample. Learn more about how you can participate and implement the results.
